

14/05/21
Friday

ch-3

3

Date

Page No.

Family values:

Family values are passed on among family members.

example: Suppose your grandmother is helping the poor children by teaching them or we can say she is educating them. Your mother is doing the same thing (Teaching) then you will also learn how to help the poor (By teaching)

what are values:

Values help us to determine what is important for us.

ie [Difference between right and wrong]

example:
→ Not to tell lies
→ To be polite
→ Help others
→ Greet your elders
→ Keep your surroundings clean.

Fun To Learn

(A) → Do on your own.

(B) Answer these Questions:

(1) What do you understand by immediate family and extended family?

Ans: Immediate family:

The people with whom we live are our immediate family, like parents, brothers and sisters etc.

Extended family:

Family members who do not stay with us but important for us are part of our extended family like our uncle, aunt, cousins etc.

(2) When do people usually meet the members of their extended family?

Ans: People usually meet the members of their extended family on family function / Some occasions

like

- Birth of a child
- Naming ceremony
- Birthday
- Festivals
- Marriages etc.

③, ④ → Do on your own